CELEBRATE SOO OPENING.

CANAL FIFTY YEARS OLD.

Mr. Fairbanks and Others Review Military and Naval Parade.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 2.-With the city crowded with thousands of visitors and with bunting flying from all buildings on both the American and Canadian sides of the St. Mary's River, a salute at sunrise from the government ships in the harbor opened the two days' celebration of the semi-centennial of the opening of the St. Mary's Ship Camal (the Soo), which connects Lake Superior with the lower lakes. Many distinguished visitors were present to view the military and naval parade which marked the day.

Visitors have been arriving in the city-by the hundreds since Monday. The two days of the celebration were declared legal holidays on both the American and Canadian sides of the river and business has been suspended wherever possible. Owners of lake vessels arranged the trips of many of the langest freighters on the takes so that they would pass through the canal during the oc. bration.

Vice-President Fairbanks, Governor Warner, of Michigan and his staff, United States Senator Burrows of Michigan, Congressman Burton of Ohio, William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' Association, Charles T. Harvey, of Toronto, who constructed the original locks, and Miss Betty Poe, daughter of General O. M. Poe. who constructed the Poe lock, are among the visitors at the celebration. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor General of Canada, and a party of Canadian officials are also here.

The day was devoted to naval and military parades, an Indian exhibition and a reception by Governor Warner to the distinguished guests, followed by fireworks.

Weather conditions were all that could be desired. Trains last night and to-day continued to bring hundreds of visitors, excursions were run by the railroads and many came from Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin. Steamboats brought a large number from the lake ports. Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and other cities. Many Canadians were also here. The Canadian Soo was practically deserted, establishments there as well as over here having closed at/noon.

Decorations have been a feature of the celebration, and to-day through the main screets and on the government canal buildings were the national colors in festoons, while incaredescent lights were strung about the thoroughteres for the illumination at night. All the vessels in the harbor were likewise decorated. Crowds gathered along the waterfront to witness the naval parada, and steamers on the river were filled with spectators.

THE NAVAL PAPADE.

Vice-President Fairbanks, who will be the chief speaker at the semi-cantennial exercises to-morrow, and who is the first Vice-President the Soo has had a change to entertain embarked on the Buscarora at 9 o'clock. Before doing so he received the officers of the government vessels. As the Vice-President's boat steamed ahead, whistles were blown, the din continuing for some minutes. As it subsided bands at the government park struck up. At the same time Gowernor Warner of Michigan and his staff boarded the United States revenue cutter Morrell, the Mackinac meanwhile receiving other guests.

The remainder of the revenue cutter fleet then steamed out into the river, followed by numerous other vessels, and entered the Poe lock, the largest of the two at this place. The vessels in parame form passed up the river, maintaining an interval of three hundred yards, and each vessel following a little on the port quarter of the boat shead. Above the lock, when entering /Canadian waters, the United States vessels slowed down, permitting the Canadian vessels@to pass to the head of the column and enter the Canadian lock to the north of the

The Canridian ressels retained the lead of the column until they recrossed the United States lines, when they dropped back, the revenue cutters talking the lead again. The fleet moved up the river, passing near the Wolverine, which was of anchor off the government park.

Vice-President Fairbanks left the Tuscarora at this point, and boarded the Wolverine to review the procession. On his departure the Tusvarora fired a salute of nineteen guns for the Vice-President. Governor Warner and his staff left the Morrell also and boarded the Wolverine, and the Morrell fired a Governor's salute of seventeen guns. The fleet then steamed by and a short distance away. The Wolverine and the guns of Fort Brady fired salutes for the Vice-President and the Governor as each left that ship, after which the procession broke up. In the military parade Charles T. Harvey, of Toronto, chief engineer of the first canal and State lock, was the chief marshal. In order followed Major Robert N. Getty and staff, 1st United States Infantry; Commander H. Morrell and staff, U. S. N., and First Battalion of marines and sailors, constituting the officers and crew of the United States ship Wolverine; eight companies of the Michigan National Guard, under command of Colonel Robert J. Bates, Commander Proderick D. Standish and staff, the Michigan State Naval Brigade and divisions from Detroit, Benton Harbor and Saginaw. Immediately after in carriages were the Vice-President, Governor Warner and the Mayor of the city, members of the Lake Su-perior Canal Commission, Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor General of Canada, and other Canadian government officials, United States Senator Burrows, of Michigan; officials connected with the canal and invited guests. The Vice-Presi-dent was cordially received by the many per-sons who lined the streets. The parade passed in review before Mr. Fairbanks and the ernor of Michigan on the water front of old Fort Brady, after which it dispersed.

Later, the Indian exhibition was held on the site of the old Indian village. There were Indian sports, songs and dances, including foot and cance races and a display of Indian handicraft by a bards of the control of

by a band of Chippewas.

To-morrow the commemoration exercises will be held and addresses will be made by President Peter White, of the semi-centennial celebration committee: Governor Warner, Vice-President Fairbanks and a number of other guests.

HISTORY OF THE CANAL.

The Sault Ste. Marie Ship Canal, the fiftleth anniversary of the opening of which was celebrated to-day, was completed by the State of Michigan in 1855. This ship channel, the connecting link between Lake Superior and the lower lakes, was transferred to the United States government in 1870. Since the government took charge of the waterway vast improvements have been undertaken, the canal having been widened and deepened several times. It is now con-sidered the husiest of the world's artificial waterways which is the largest in the world. It is 800 feet long and 100 feet wide, with a water depth of 22 feet on the sills.

The Weitzel lock, which was made necessary by the increased traffic, and is still in operation, is 515 feet long. The traffic by way of the Soo Canais. American and Canadian, in 1904, was 31,546,106 tons, 27,000,000 of which was through the American canal. The traffic of the Suez 31,546,166 tons, 27,000,000 of which was through the American canal. The traffic of the Suez Canal in 1904 was 12,000,000 net tons. Last year, through the Soc. 38,000 passengers were transported. The year's freight tonnage was valued at $340,000,000.

The Soc Canal has developed the vast mineral wealth of the Lake Superior region, and has furnished a cheap and convenient outlet for the transportation of grain, flour and other products to the East and to Europe. It has helped to build up great industrial centres at Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo, has aided in making Pittsburg the kreatest iron and steel dentre in the world and has contributed materially toward giving the United States primacy in the production of iron, steel and copper.

Another lock must soon be built and the ship canal above the locks must be widened because of the great development of the ore and grain traffic of the Northwest.

Terrier Had Chased Women to the Fire Escapes.

An Irish terrier, belonging to Mrs. Helen Straub, was shot in the bathroom of her apartments at No. 302 East 91st-st., late yesterday afternoon, by Patrolman Corbett, of the East 88th-st. station. The dog had spread terror through the family, and forced Mrs. Straub to take refuge on the fire escape, where Miss Mary Hamilton, a neighbor, also sought safety. Archie Straub, a son of Mrs. Straub, had to climb to a table in the dining room. The screams of Miss Hamilton and Mrs. Straub alarmed the tenants of the house, and, thinking that the house was on fire, they took to the fire balconie and ran out to the street screaming and crying.

Patrolman Corbett's attention was attracted it e shricks and screams of the neighbors. He far stairs to the Straub apartment. As he entered, upstairs to the Straub apartment. On this the dog few viciously, and held on, biting and snarling. Corbett placed the muzzle of his plated between the dog's eyes and fired.

SUFFERINGS OF RUSSIAN JEWS.

Those in England in a Pitiable Condition, Dr. Danziger Reports.

Washington, Aug. 2.-Dr. Adolphe Danziger, formerly United States Consul at Madrid, arrived here to-day to lay before the Department of Commerce and Labor memorands concerning the con-dition of the Jews abroad, the information being gathered at the request of the department for the use of the Bureau of Immigration in dealing with that class of immigrants.

"In England, Germany and Russia," said Dr. Danziger, in reviewing his observations what struck me most notably was the hopeful lews the Jews take of America. The people met were hoping that the President would take the opportunity that presented itself to induce the Russian government to grant them freedom, or at least to give them equal rights in Russia. Many of the Russian Jews do not want to leave that country. They are farmers, and are a hardy and brave people. They love their country in spite of the oppression that has been brought upon hem by the Russian government.

"I found a terrible condition among the Russian Jews who have gone to England to come to this untry. The steamship companies are afraid to country. The steamship companies are afraid to bring them here for fear they will be declared papers, with the result that the steamship companies would have to take them back to England. In order to refuse them passage when they have the money to pay their way, the doctors of the companies invent excuses. They declare that they are suffering from some kind of eye disease or some imaginary iii. The fact is the Jews there are powerful fellows, who have had their muscles trained on farms in Russia. They are not only farmers, but mechanics of all kinds."

Dr. Danziger expressed the opinion that the South offered an opening for the Jews if the interests there were anxious to obtain white labor for farm work.

Socialist Section Secedes-Americans on the Executive Committee.

Rabbi Reines, leader of the Misrachist element, said that his group adhered to the views of the congress.

Several German delegates requested and obtained the consent of the congress to present arguments favoring Jewish colonization outside of Palestine, bringing out a request from the Rev. Dr. Magnes, of Brooklyn, for a ruling by the chair on whether he decision on Sunday favorable to Palestine was binding on all the delegates. Meanwhile the socialist section definitely seceded from the Orthodox Zionists, their object being to find suitable territory outside of Palestine for the foundation of a colony. The congress, after accepting reports of committees on proposed alterations in the statutes losed this afternoon with the election of the executive committee, on which Dr. Henry Friedenwald Lewin Epstein, Cyrus Sulzberger, Zolotkoff Horovitch, the Rev. Dr. Magnes and Dr. Harry represent the United States. Dr. Frommenson, on behalf of the American delegates presented to the congress the Zionist national benner from the St. Louis Exposition.

ONE KILLED, FORTY HURT.

Police Finally Restore Order in

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 2.-As an outcome of the 'longshoremen's strike for an increase of wages to 25 cents an hour, the greater part of San Juan was under the control of a mob between 7 and 9 o'clock last night. The mob, in which there were about a thousand armed persons, dug up paving blocks and stones, and with these and other missiles rushed through the streets fighting with the police, who were armed with rifles, and fired scores of shots.

jured persons in the hospitals, three or four of whom may die. At 8 o'clock, while the main police force was engaged with the rioters, another mob, mainly composed of young men and boys, threw stones at the arc lights in the main streets, with the result that nearly the entire city was in darkness all night. At 9 o'clock the mob sought refuge in a police. This district, however, was surrounded by the police, and mounted squads patrolled the city for the remainder of the night.

At midnight the police, numbering only one hundred, had the situation under control. Re-to bring every policeman from every town in the island. If the police should prove insuffi-cient, I intend to call on Colonel Crane for sol-diers and on Captain Dunlap, commanding the naval station, for marines. So long as the strik-ers behave there will be no interference with them, but the moment they attempt any dis-turbance the police will be instructed to use turbance the police will be instructed to use their cluks freely, and if that should be insuffi-cient then to shoot, and to shoot into the riot-ers' bodies and not over their heads. There will be no more blank cartridges.

At the office of the New-York and Porto Ricc Steamship Company, which employs over half of the lengshoremen on strike at San Juan, it was said to-day that the strikers number not more than two hundred and fifty. They are all natives of Porto Rico. No damage to the company's property has been reported. The company has been able to get natives from the east end of the island to load and unload all its steamers without delay.

Colonel T. H. Hamili, who served in the Spanish-American War in Porto Rico and is now chief of police at San Juan, is due to arrive at San Juan to-day on the steamer Coamo. He has quelled several riots in Porto Rico in the last half dozen years. His return to-day is unexpected by the natives.

CUBAN SENATE'S DELAY.

Rice Bill Seems Doomed-Possible Effect on Reciprocity.

continue the sessions of Congress until November shall be practically a dead letter, and that no more sessions shall be held except to pass the Soldiers' Pay bill, and possibly a few others. The Moderates recently have been most active in preventing quorums in the Senate, because of the Liberal majority. The situation is disappointing to Americans interested in the rice bill, who had re-lied on President Palma and the Moderate Senators to put the measure through the Senate stead the Liberal leaders appear to be the best friends of the bill, while the Senators favorable to the administration are either lukewarm or opposed

The friends of the bill cite as a final argument the fact that the United States is called upon to face a deficit of $26,000,000, with $14,000,000 loss in customs receipts on account of Cuban reciprocity, this being offset only in a measure by the $7,000,000 increase in exports from the United States to Americans contend that this condition and the refusal of Cuba to pass a measure giving the United States a fair share of the benefits of reciprocity will prove strong factors at Washington against the continuation of the reciprocity treaty. A few sugar producers are apprehensive of the possibility that the American market for Cuba's possibility that the American market for Cuba's sugar will be cut off as a result of Cuba's indifference toward the rice measure. The majority of the Senators however, appear to regard the matter of small importance as far as it affects reciprocal relations between the United States and Cuba. Cubans do not take readily to American rice, and they believe it would be impossible for the United States to supply the Cuban demand for the coming two years. The coming Presidential campaign is another factor which may cause postponement of action on the measure.

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS.

[FROM THE TRIBUNE BUREAU.] Washington, August 2.
IMPROVING THE NEW-YORK.-An important project will be undertaken at the Boston navy yard by the naval constructors in replacing the turrets of the New-York. This subject has beet under discussion for some time, and it is believed that the changes contemplated will increase the protective qualities of the vessel. For one thing, the armor will be extended down to the protectes deck and thus add to the security of the gunner and others in the turret in time of battle. There was some question whether the ship could stand the added weight, but the constructors have figured out how the extra armor may be applied without seriously affecting the other features of the ship. This question of weights is an important one, from which the experts have not been able to get away. It is coming up in a pointed way in the designs for the battleships authorized at the last session of Congress. It is possible that the ships will have to be of greater displacement than that authorized in order to get in the powerful battery of 12-inch guns which are considered by the ordnance officers as well as the strategists to be the most necessary in the equipment of the vessel as a means of meeting the enemy on anything like equal terms. One proposition is to have guns of eleven inches calibre, but this would mean an entirely new type of gun, and there is not sufficient time to accomplish this.
